UT OLLI FORUM Fall 2022-23 — In-Person Lectures — Fridays

01:00 PM - 02:10 PM Lectures

10/07/2022	100 Years of Texas Parks and Wildlife This lecture will cover the background on how the State Parks started, how they are preserved, and a look at some of the most popular parks, especially the ones near Austin. --- Russell Roe is editor in chief of Texas Parks & Wildlife magazine, where he has worked for 12 years.	 Russell Roe
10/14/2022	Storytelling Liars Folks have been stretching the truth just for the fun of it for a long time, especially in Texas. Tall tales and tall talk are a significant part of Texas folklore and have given rise to contests to determine the best liars. --- Named Best Liar in Texas four times, Donna Ingham has claimed victories in other liars' contests in Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Denton, and Boerne. She is also active in the Texas Folklore Society, currently serving as vice president.	 Donna Ingham

10/21/2022	New Perspectives on How Our Minds Work Recent research shows that much of what we thought we knew about how our minds work is mistaken. Rather than rising from our essential natures, our emotional and social realities are mainly invented by each of us. Modern and ancient perspectives allow us to have some insight into what we have made. --- Deric Bownds lives in Austin TX and is an emeritus professor of The University of Wisconsin–Madison, where his lab discovered how our eyes change light into nerve signals. He authored the book “Biology of Mind,” and in retirement lectures and continues to describe new advances in “Deric’s MindBlog.”	 Deric Bownds
10/28/2022	Texas Men and Women Who Have Dropped Out of the History Books We know the icons – Austin, Houston, Travis, Bowie – but the lives of lesser-known Texans deserve attention, as well. Minority Texans, women, regional figures, even scoundrels, lived fascinating lives and our awareness of them helps us better understand ourselves and the state we call home. --- Mr. Holley is an editorial writer and "Native Texan" columnist for the Houston Chronicle. A native Texan himself, he received degrees from Abilene Christian University, the University of Texas at Austin and Columbia University and is a former editorial page editor in San Diego.	 Joe Holley

11/04/2022	Spaceflight in Texas This talk will explore the roots of the new space industries in Texas. There will be behind-the-scenes photos from the speaker's time spent at these places while covering SpaceX launches for National Geographic and Jeff Bezos' launch into suborbital space for Popular Mechanic. --- Joe Pappalardo is an award-winning journalist and author. His work appeared in Popular Mechanics, Smithsonian Air & Space, National Geographic, Texas Monthly, Esquire.com, Autoblog, and Time. He is the author of four non-fiction books, Sunflowers, Spaceport Earth, Inferno, and Red Sky Morning.	 Joe Pappalardo
11/11/2022	Food Stigma and Bias, Making Choices Biased in Science Meals from fast-food restaurants are an integral part of US diets. Current levels and trends in consumption, healthfulness, and related sociodemographic disparities will be discussed. --- Drew Hayes is an Asst. Professor of Instruction in the Dept. of Nutritional Sciences, a Registered Dietician, and a Le Cordon Bleu trained chef.	 Drew Hayes
